Dear Helen & Elmer

I've survived Barcelona! I've climbed every hill overlooking the city and walked every square inch of historic ground. I also took an excursion to Montserrat monastery an hour away by train. It's perched up on top of a 4000 ft. mountain. I rode a cable car up - what a thrill - like being launched into space! From the very top peak I could see from the Pyrenees to the north all the way to Majorica off the coast of Spain to the south. tomorrow I read for Italy (home "!) June well be back in Naples on the 24th. Hurrah! love, Vicki
